Marie Pacini Arrington '03

It is our pleasure to brag about Marie Pacini Arrington. After graduation, she went to University of Michigan and successfully completed her Bachelor's degree from the School of Education ('07). During her time at Michigan, Marie also skated internationally on the USFSA senior level synchronized team and the collegiate team. As such, she traveled to England, France, Italy, and the Czech Republic, in addition to many national competitions within the United States. Upon graduation, Marie moved to Charlotte, NC to begin her career as an elementary teacher in a school that met the needs of students who were impoverished and dealt with substantive personal needs. This experience motivated Marie to expand her knowledge and development in the realm of special education.

She received a Master's of Arts in Teaching degree focusing on special education from the University of North Carolina Charlotte (UNCC). Thereafter, she served as a self-contained teacher for middle school students with profound developmental disabilities. She then was recruited to serve as an Educational Specialist in a private multi-disciplinary private practice and provided all levels of contribution related to educational assessments, determination of plans of care, etc. As Marie was doing all of this, she also secured seven professional certifications from four different certifying bodies. Presently, Marie is the Assessment and Research Coordinator for the Fletcher School in Charlotte, NC. The Fletcher School serves students with learning differences by offering a multi-sensory college preparatory curriculum. Marie will be attending UNCC to secure her second Master's degree with a focus on leadership and curriculum development. She is happily married to Kiel Arrington, the proud owner of Vaulted Oak Brewery in Charlotte and the beloved mother of Gracelyn (4) and Jacob (1 ½).

How can I count all the ways that Emily has made a difference in the world? Emily is a Speech and Language Therapist in Dearborn Public Schools. She obtained her Bachelors Degree from Michigan State University and her Masters Degree in Speech and Language Therapy from Eastern Michigan University. She is a highly engaging therapist working on language skills of students with a wide range of difficulties.

She is dedicated to serving children in the Mild and Moderately Impaired Classrooms. Many of the children use English as their second language so she collects and uses many resources to make her sessions incredibly beneficial to her students. She enjoys working with the parents of the children. She has guided many interns to become highly effective therapists.

I am especially proud of her advocacy for children by insisting on the best placement and outcomes for her students. She is a key person in her school, helping in many capacities. For example, she is often called upon to help children with special needs especially when they appear to be out of control. Her calm demeanor and firm directives in addition to her warm smile have a great impact in these situations. She will be one of those educators who will always be remembered by the students she has helped. Emily enjoys a wide range of activities, always willing to learn a new craft, engage in a new sport and meet new challenges. Emily is a wonderful wife and mother of two beautiful children. Each child is incredibly interesting and engaging, they expect each day to be an adventure.

When Jackie's father passed away suddenly in fall of her Sophomore year at Mercy it turned her world upside down. Instead of enjoying things a fifteen-year-old should be experiencing, her world became filled with sadness, uncertainty and isolation. In all of her grief, one thing that did seem to help was the CHAT group organized at Mercy. CHAT gave girls who had experienced a loss a safe place to go and meet in a group with other teens that understood what they were going through. I will forever be grateful to Mercy for this group and for their support!

In spring of 2020 Jackie became involved in New Hope Center for Grief Support in Northville, Michigan. The mission of New Hope is to offer hope, healing and new beginnings to those who have experienced the loss of a loved one. Based on what she had learned and experienced at Mercy, Jackie helped develop content and form a Teen Peer Support group at New Hope. Jackie has been the Teen Group Facilitator for 2 years and provided many teens a safe place to express themselves. She has also lead groups of young children at the annual Kid's camp for 4 years, and has met one on one with teens and families to offer grief support.

Jackie can just sit in the horrible space of grief, be there, understand and listen. Jackie has turned loss and sadness into hope and love for others. This is truly God working through Jackie to make a difference in the lives of others.

Annelyse Beaman Miller '91

How can I count all the ways that Annelyse has made a difference in the world? She is the penultimate educator and has used many platforms to engage learners. Drama was important to Annelyse while at Mercy. She was part of the initial Mime Group and was in plays at Mercy and U of D Jesuit. She has taught drama to her current middle school students as well as to various church and community groups. She is especially interested in the benefits of Improv and has led workshops for a variety of students, young and old. Recently she virtually taught Chinese educators how to teach drama to their students. In the course of the interaction she was able to write thirty-nine plays based up popular Chinese children's stories to be used by these teachers.

Annelyse spent a year in the Dominican Republic teaching young children and working with other volunteer groups in meeting the needs of a very poor community. Annelyse has made a significant difference at the Detroit Public Schools Community District middle school where she teaches. Many of the children use English as their second language so their reading levels tend to be low. She has consistently increased their reading levels by encouraging reading for pleasure. An important tool is the classroom library she has created with wide range of reading levels and interests. This has been accomplished with support from Donors Choose followers. Annelyse is an amazing wife and mother. Her three children are incredible examples of her strong dedication to making the world an interesting place to explore and learn. Each of her children are dedicated readers. Her latest personal accomplishment is to earn her Golden Gloves at her Kick Boxing Gym.

Rejane Pierre Tyler '95

Rejane, known affectionately as Jaja, Jaj, and Rae, is the one and only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jean-Marie R. Pierre from Haiti. Brooklyn, NY was our first home in the US, and Rejane attended school there for a few years, excelling in all of her subjects, which carried on into elementary and middle school.

After relocating to Detroit, Michigan during elementary school, she attended Christ the King School and graduated with honors, and was accepted into Mercy High School. There, she had the opportunity to make new (lifelong) friends and learn everything she could via a rigorous college prep program. Our daughter continued on her path as a smart, friendly, and honest person, extremely enjoying classes such as French, choral, and literature, constantly collecting and reading book after book.

After graduating from Mercy, Rejane went on to attend Michigan State University, graduating from the College of Communications in Journalism and shortly after, completed Broadcast and Film Studies at Specs Howard. She then lived all over the US, wanting to experience all that life had to offer: back to NYC, onto Florida, California, Washington, DC, and Chicago, where she now lives happily with her husband. We couldn't be more proud or thrilled for our daughter and the life she has built!
